

This intriguing photograph by Vytautas Babelis features an imposing Gothic cathedral silhouetted against a hazy, yellow sky, creating a sense of both grandeur and mystery. The foreground appears to be overlaid with abstract, reddish-orange shapes, resembling draped fabric or ethereal figures, adding an element of surrealism to the composition. The interplay of light and shadow, along with the contrasting warm and cool tones, evokes a dreamlike atmosphere, inviting viewers to ponder the stories and emotions hidden within this captivating image.

Melissa Fandos